

Fly Baseball

Plot - People are standing around bored wondering what to do. Finally someone sees a fly go by and suggests Fly Baseball.

Someone catches a fly, and everyone proceeds to play.

The fly is knocked unconscious after a few plays, and the players proceed to help the fly.

Punch line: The fly is revived, The person holding it high fives someone close to him/her. Then s/he realizes that the fly was just squashed, and everyone is grossed out.

The campers and counselors for this cabin group can come up with your own lines. However, it cannot be out-of-control especially when reviving the fly. Make sure there really are some funny lines!

The last people who high five should really react with bugged out eyes looking at the audience. Maybe the one with the fly on him/her could run to a staff person and wipe the fly on the person's head without revealing that is what's going to happen before s/he gets there.
