

Offensive Bus Passenger Skit

Players are pretending that they are riding a bus. There is a bus driver and several passengers.

Note that as the driver of the bus swerves to miss potholes or turn corners everyone on the bus should lean the same way, yell because of being scared, fall out of seats etc.)

Every time the bus stops, the passengers hold their nose, cough, etc. looking at a specific passenger as they get off the bus. (Each person should ham this up differently than any other person.)

The bus driver complains to the offensive passenger that s/he is driving everyone off his bus.

The passenger says that it isn't his/her fault.

The driver accuses him of a peculiar smell and asks if he has taken a bath? Washed his shirt,? Used deodorant? Clean underwear? Clean feet? etc. The passenger claims that s/he has.

Change your socks?

Finally very irritated, the passenger pulls a pair of dirty, smelly, socks out of his back pocket, as proof that he has changed socks.

The bus driver wrecks the bus.
