

Dueling Nostrils, a skit for staff

Set to the tune of "Dueling Banjos," 2 staff light up their nostrils on a dark stage for tons of laughs!

Supplies:

- 2 penlights
- the "Dueling Banjos" song (It's on Moses' iPod.)
- Nice suit jackets or old tuxedos and ties
- Q-Tips
- 2 chairs set center stage

Skit:

Enter stage very seriously, dressed in concert costumes (maybe tuxedos), and carrying instrument cases.

Set cases down, open them up, and then pull out Q-tips.

Clean out noses with the Q-tips.

Then put the penlights up into noses, which is the cue for the lights to go out and the music to start.

Go back and forth with one person following the guitar and the other following the banjo, lighting up (turning on) the penlights which makes the noses glow red.

After the song is done very seriously pack up things and leave the stage.
